The Jesuit Oath

I (name of the prospective Jesuit member), will now, in the presence of Almighty God, the Blessed Virgin Mary, the blessed Archangel Michael, the blessed John the Baptist, the holy Apostles Peter and Paul, and all the saints and sacred, heavenly hosts, and to you, my spiritual father, the Superior General of the Society of Jesus, founded by Saint Ignatius of Loyola, in the Pontificate of Paul III, and continued to the present, brought forth by the womb of the Virgin, the matrix of God, and the rod of Jesus Christ, declare and swear that His Holiness, the Pope, is Christ's Vicar-Regent; and he is the true and only head of the Catholic and Universal Church throughout the entire earth; and that by virtue of the keys of binding and loosing given to His Holiness by my Savior, Jesus Christ, he has the power to depose heretical kings, princes, states, republics, and governments, all of which are illegal without his sacred confirmation, and that they may safely be destroyed. Further, I declare that I will help, assist, and advise all or any of His Holiness's agents in any place where I shall be, and do my utmost to extirpate the heretical Protestant or liberal doctrines by lawful means or otherwise, and to destroy all their pretended power.

I also promise and declare that I will not, under any circumstances, adopt any heretical religion to advance the interests of the Mother Church, and I will keep all plans of her agents secret and confidential. If they should give me instructions from time to time, I will not directly or indirectly disclose them by word, writing, or any circumstances whatsoever, but will execute everything that you, my spiritual father, propose, command, or reveal to me...

Further, I promise that I will have no opinion or will of my own, or any mental reservation whatsoever, even as a corpse or cadaver, but will readily obey every single command I may receive from my superior in the army of the Pope and Jesus Christ. That I will go to any part of the earth, wherever it may be, without murmuring, and will be submissive in all things, however they are entrusted to me... Moreover, I promise that, when opportunity arises, I will mercilessly declare war and proceed secretly or openly against all heretics, Protestants, and Liberals, as I am commanded, to extirpate them root and branch and make them disappear from the face of the earth. I will spare neither age, social status, nor any circumstances. I will hang, burn, ravage, boil, behead, strangle, and bury these heretics alive, rip open the wombs of their women, and smash the heads of their children against the wall, solely to annihilate their accursed race forever. And if I cannot kill them publicly, I will do so secretly with a poisoned chalice, the gallows, the dagger, or the leaden bullet, regardless of the honor, rank, dignity, or authority of the person or persons they hold, whatever their position in public or private life may be. I will act as and whenever commanded by any agent of the Pope or superior of the Brotherhood of the Holy Faith of the Society of Jesus.”

Trump to sign executive order establishing White House faith office

The new office will 'empower faith-based entities, community organizations, and houses of worship to better serve families and communities'

By Morgan Phillips · Fox News

The office will be housed under the Domestic Policy Council and will consult experts in the faith community on policy changes to "better align with American values."

The office plans to coordinate with other agencies on training for religious liberty and on elevating grant opportunities for non-profit faith-based entities, community organizations and houses of worship. It will also collaborate with the Department of Justice on identifying constitutional religious liberty protections.

The order will come one day after Trump signed an order to create a task force to identify "anti-Christian bias."

The White House said this "Task Force to End the War on Christians" will comprise members of the president's Cabinet and key government agencies, and the order seeks to "end the anti-Christian weaponization of government."

In the United States, approximately 62% of adults identify as Christians, including 40% as Protestants and 19% as Catholics. The majority of these Christians observe Sunday as their weekly day of rest.

Spread of Sunday Worship

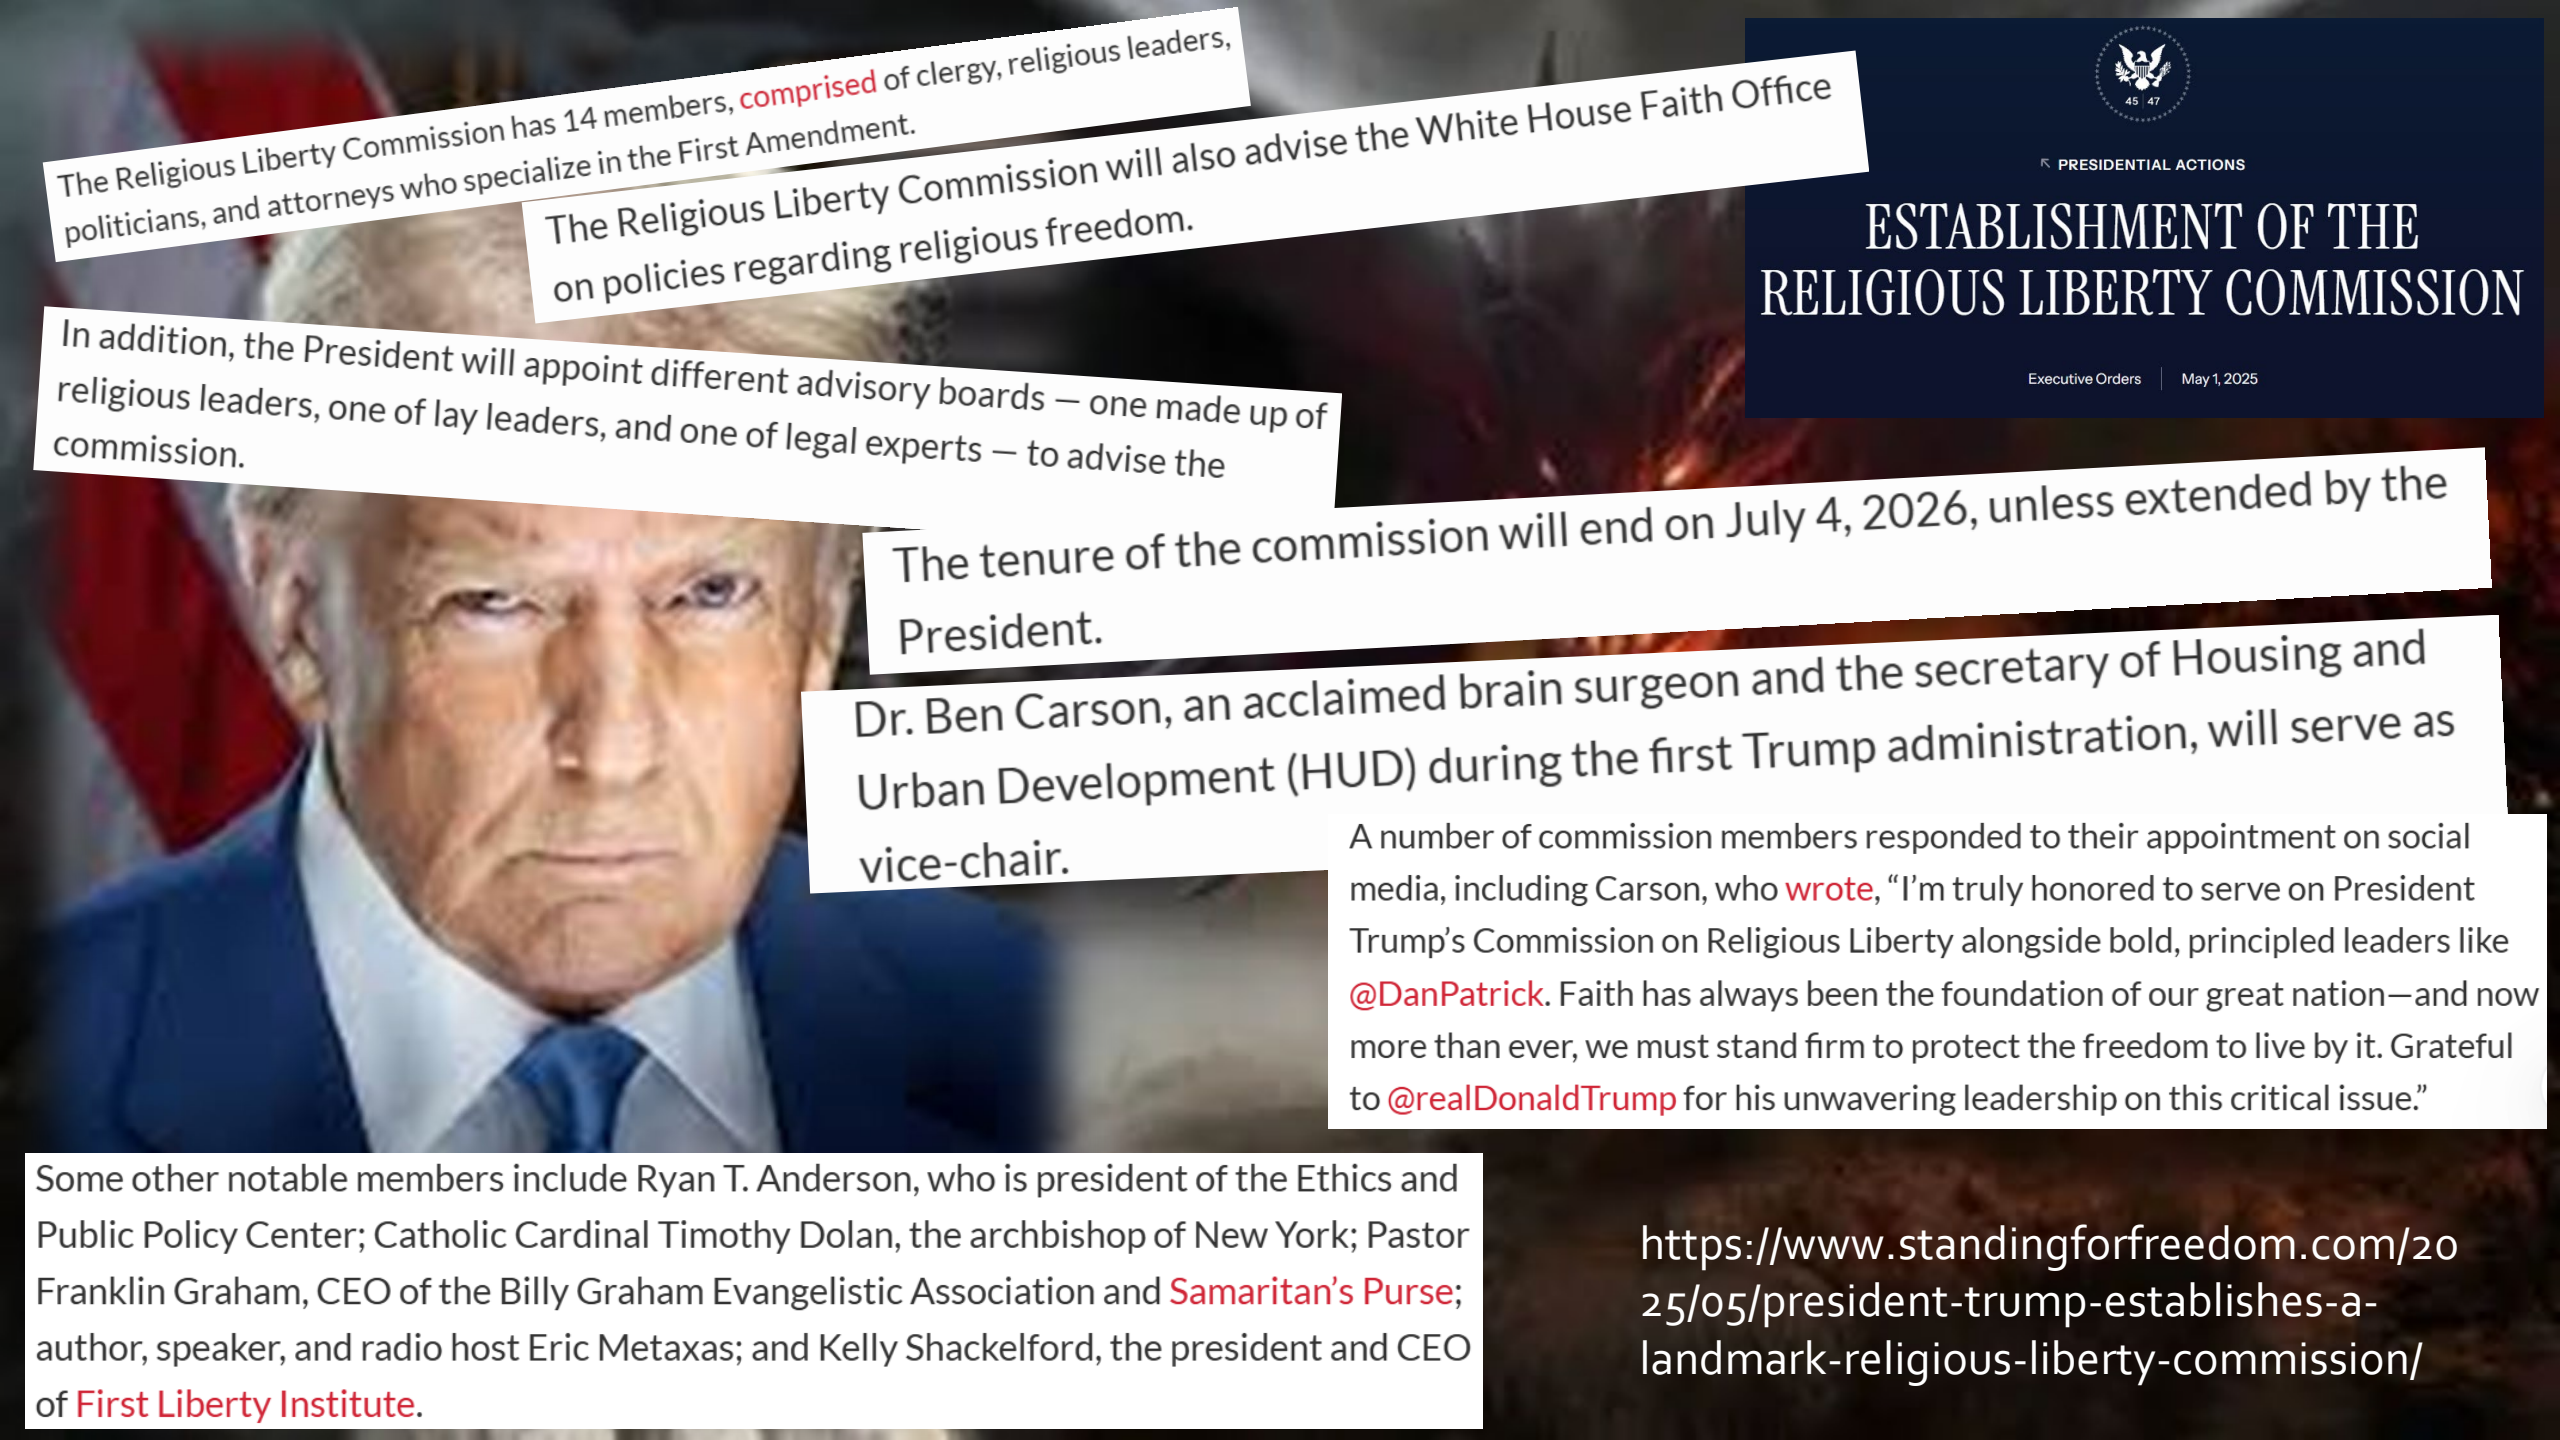

Most Protestant denominations in the USA—including evangelical, Methodist, Lutheran, and Baptist communities—traditionally hold their worship services on Sunday. The Roman Catholic Church also observes Sunday as a holy day. Therefore, it can be assumed that the vast majority of the approximately 210 million Christians in the USA consider Sunday as their main day of worship.

Exceptions

Some Christian groups, such as Seventh-day Adventists, Seventh-day Baptists, and certain Messianic Jewish communities, observe Saturday (Sabbath) as their day of rest. However, these groups make up only a small percentage of the total population.

Conclusion

Although exact numbers may vary, it is reasonable to say that the overwhelming majority of Christians in the USA observe Sunday as their day of rest. This corresponds to several hundred million people who regularly attend Sunday services or consider the day holy.

The Religious Liberty Commission has 14 members, comprised of clergy, religious leaders, politicians, and attorneys who specialize in the First Amendment.

The Religious Liberty Commission will also advise the White House Faith Office on policies regarding religious freedom.

In addition, the President will appoint different advisory boards – one made up of religious leaders, one of lay leaders, and one of legal experts – to advise the commission.

The tenure of the commission will end on July 4, 2026, unless extended by the President.

Dr. Ben Carson, an acclaimed brain surgeon and the secretary of Housing and Urban Development (HUD) during the first Trump administration, will serve as vice-chair.

A number of commission members responded to their appointment on social media, including Carson, who wrote, “I’m truly honored to serve on President Trump’s Commission on Religious Liberty alongside bold, principled leaders like @DanPatrick. Faith has always been the foundation of our great nation—and now more than ever, we must stand firm to protect the freedom to live by it. Grateful to @realDonaldTrump for his unwavering leadership on this critical issue.”

Some other notable members include Ryan T. Choice of name

The choice of his name is often indicative of what a pope wants to represent during his term. Leo is the Latin word for „lion“. In an address to the College of Cardinals, the newly elected Pope referred in particular to the last incumbent of this name, Leo XIII., and its social encyclical Rerum Novarum from 1891.^[53] Leo XIII was considered a „workers' pope“ who campaigned for fair wages, workers' rights and social justice.^[54] Leo XIV stated:

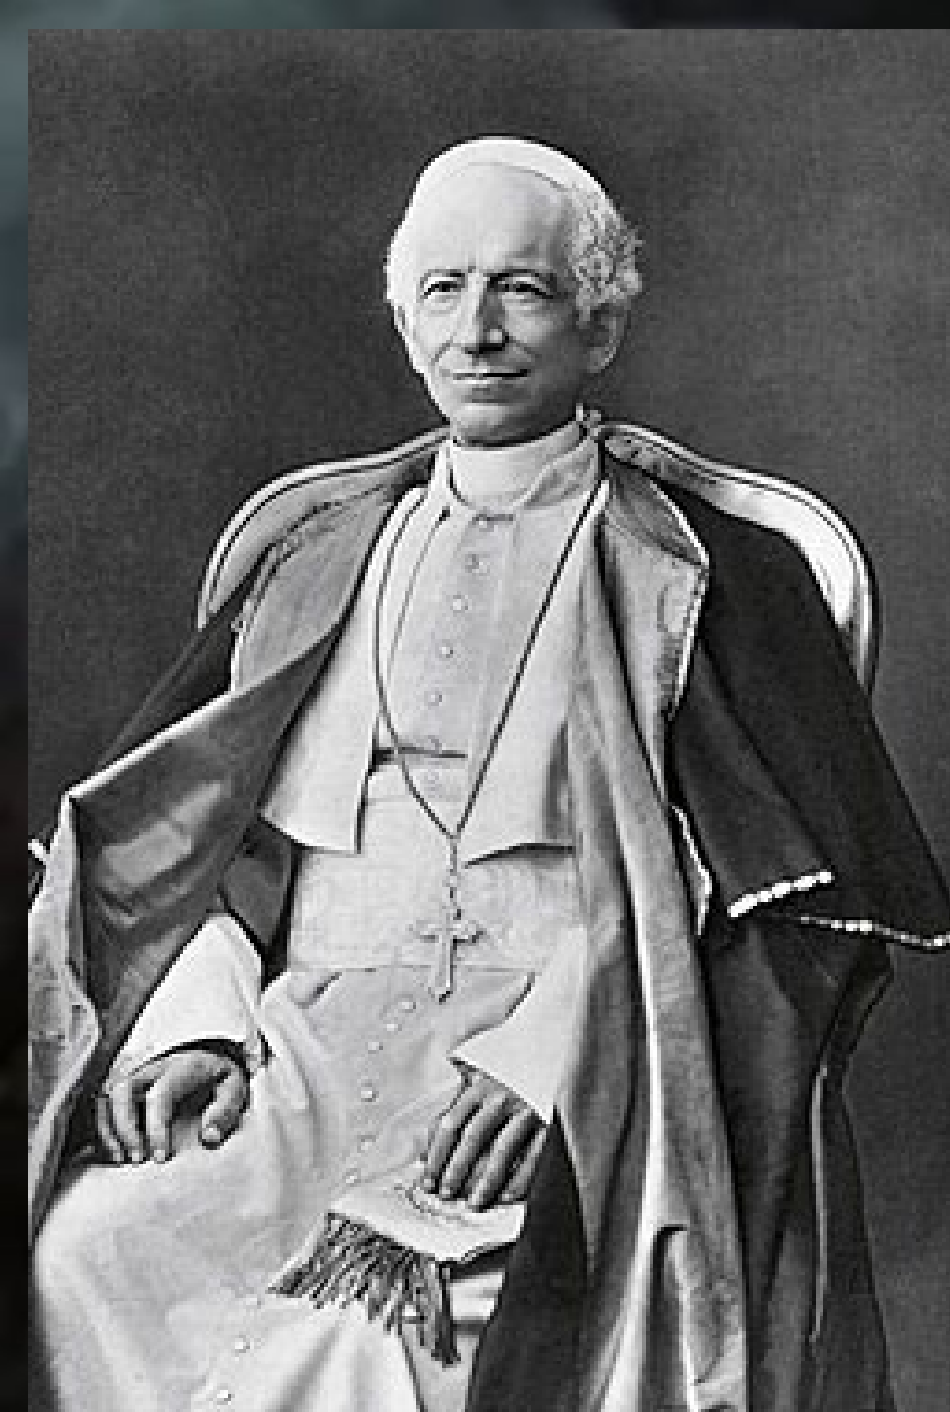

„Leo XIII faced the challenges of the first industrial revolution – today we are facing a new one: the revolution of artificial intelligence and their impact on justice, work and human dignity.“

And in January he elevated him into the senior ranks of cardinals. As a result, Prevost had a prominence going into the conclave that few other cardinals had.

@BishopBarron

I am grateful to President Trump for appointing me to serve on the Commission on Religious Liberty. Freedom of religion in our country has been a central concern of the United States Conference of Catholic Bishops for decades, and I see my task as bringing the perspective of Catholic social teaching to bear as the Commission endeavors to shape public policy in this matter. In assuming this responsibility, I take as my model Fr. Theodore Hesburgh, the legendary president of the University of Notre Dame from 1952 to 1987. In the course of his career, Hesburgh served on sixteen separate presidential commissions over several decades in both Republican and Democrat administrations. I ask you to pray for me as I commence this important work.

Rerum Novarum is an encyclical written by Pope Leo XIII., published on May 15, 1891. Among the 86 encyclicals of his pontificate (1878 to 1903), which earned Leo XIII the title of the “Workers’ Pope“ in papal history, this one is considered epochal and the “mother of all social encyclicals”.

Regarding the duties of the state, the Pope advocates for a state social policy. Pope Leo XIII sees the “free play of forces” as having failed and concludes that the state, through specific obligations such as legislation aligned with the common good, protection of private property, prevention of strikes, safeguarding human dignity and Sunday rest, oversight of working conditions—especially for women and children—wage justice (→ social justice), protection of workers’ spirit, and promotion of peace and order, fulfills its function, namely “to protect and promote the common good” (paragraph 28), without disregarding the origin in God or the individual's freedom of action. He acknowledges that employers’ associations have a natural and necessary role, which must be recognized by the state but should not take precedence over the state’s authority.

Rights and Duties of Capital and Labor

41. From this follows the obligation of the cessation from work and labor on Sundays and certain holy days. The rest from labor is not to be understood as mere giving way to idleness; much less must it be an occasion for spending money and for vicious indulgence, as many would have it to be; but it should be rest from labor, hallowed by religion. Rest (combined with religious observances) disposes man to forget for a while the business of his everyday life, to turn his thoughts to things heavenly, and to the worship which he so strictly owes to the eternal Godhead. It is this, above all, which is the reason and motive of Sunday rest; a rest sanctioned by God's great law of the Ancient Covenant—"Remember thou keep holy the Sabbath day,"(31) and taught to the world by His own mysterious "rest" after the creation of man: "He rested on the seventh day from all His work which He had done."(32) strengthened with special care against wrong principles and false teaching. Let the working man be urged and led to the worship of God, to the earnest practice of religion, and, among other things, to the keeping holy of Sundays and holy days. Let him learn to reverence and love holy Church, the common Mother of us all; and hence to obey the precepts of the Church, and to frequent the sacraments, since they are the means ordained by God for obtaining forgiveness of sin and for leading a holy life.

⚠️ National Sunday Law – Legislative Initiative of 1888

In 1888, a bill was introduced in the U.S. Congress that aimed to nationally establish Sunday as a day of rest by law.

Introduced by: Senator Henry W. Blair (known for religiously and morally driven legislative proposals)

The law intended to: Prohibit work on Sundays, indirectly promote church attendance, and impose penalties for violations of Sunday rest.

🛡️ A.T. Jones – Defense of Religious Freedom

Adventist Alonzo T. Jones spoke against the Blair bill before the U.S. Senate Committee on December 13, 1888.

His arguments: Forcing Sunday observance is religious persecution. The Constitution (First Amendment) guarantees the separation of church and state. Such laws lead back to the dark centuries of religious intolerance.

- ◆ His speech was later published under the title, “The National Sunday Law” and remains a classic text in defense of freedom of conscience.

🧩 Conclusion:

Blue Laws, particularly the Sunday law initiative of 1888, were a direct attempt to enforce religious practices through legislation. A.T. Jones powerfully and publicly opposed this attempt—thereby preserving a crucial piece of freedom of conscience in American history.

The substitution of the false for the true is the last act in the drama. When this substitution becomes universal, God will reveal Himself. When the laws of men are exalted above the laws of God, when the first day of the week is exalted above the seventh, know that the time has come for God to work. He will arise in His majesty to shake terribly the earth. He will come out of His place to punish the inhabitants of the earth for their iniquity, the transgression of His law. And the earth shall disclose her blood, and shall no more cover her slain. 14LtMs, Ms 27, 1899, par. 7

Never did this message apply with greater force than it applies today. More and more the world is setting at naught the claims of God. Men have become bold in transgression. The wickedness of the inhabitants of the world has almost filled up the measure of their iniquity. This earth has almost reached the place where God will permit the destroyer to work his will upon it. The substitution of the laws of men for the law of God, the exaltation, by merely human authority, of Sunday in place of the Bible Sabbath, is the last act in the drama. When this substitution becomes universal, God will reveal Himself. He will arise in His majesty to shake terribly the earth. He will come out of His place to punish the inhabitants of the world for their iniquity, and the earth shall disclose her blood, and shall no more cover her slain.—Testimonies for the Church 7:141. ChS 50.2

The church that holds to the word of God is irreconcilably separated from Rome. Protestants were once thus apart from this great church of apostasy, but they have approached more nearly to her, and are still in the path of reconciliation to the Church of Rome. Rome never changes. Her principles have not altered in the least. She has not lessened the breach between herself and Protestants; they have done all the advancing. But what does this argue for the Protestantism of this day? It is the rejection of Bible truth which makes men approach to infidelity. It is a backsliding church that lessens the distance between itself and the Papacy. ST February 19, 1894, par. 4

Through the two great errors, the immortality of the soul and Sunday sacredness, Satan will bring the people under his deceptions. While the former lays the foundation of spiritualism, the latter creates a bond of sympathy with Rome. The Protestants of the United States will be foremost in stretching their hands across the gulf to grasp the hand of spiritualism; they will reach over the abyss to clasp hands with the Roman power; and under the influence of this threefold union, this country will follow in the steps of Rome in trampling on the rights of conscience. GC 588.1

The dignitaries of church and state will unite to bribe, persuade, or compel all classes to honor the Sunday. The lack of divine authority will be supplied by oppressive enactments. Political corruption is destroying love of justice and regard for truth; and even in free America, rulers and legislators, in order to secure public favor, will yield to the popular demand for a law enforcing Sunday observance. Liberty of conscience, which has cost so great a sacrifice, will no longer be respected. In the soon-coming conflict we shall see exemplified the prophet's words: "The dragon was wroth with the woman, and went to make war with the remnant of her seed, which keep the commandments of God, and have the testimony of Jesus Christ." Revelation 12:17

GC 592.3

“The pacific tone of Rome in the United States does not imply a change of heart. She is tolerant where she is helpless. Says Bishop O'Connor: ‘Religious liberty is merely endured until the opposite can be carried into effect without peril to the Catholic world.’” “The archbishop of St. Louis once said: ‘Heresy and unbelief are crimes; and in Christian countries, as in Italy and Spain, for instance, where all the people are Catholics, and where the Catholic religion is an essential part of the law of the land, they are punished as other crimes.’” GC88 564.5

Pope Leo XIV announces first foreign trip to Turkey

Pope Leo XIV granted an audience to the media for the first time on Monday. Among the questions he was asked was one about his first foreign trip, during which the Pope revealed the destination and timing of his travel plans.

What are Pope Leo XIV's plans for the trip to Turkey?

Pope Leo XIV confirmed during the Vatican audience that he is preparing for a trip to Turkey. The visit is associated with the celebration of the 1700th anniversary of the Council of Nicaea, which was held in the town of Iznik, formerly known as Nicaea.

The previous head of the Church, Pope Francis, had planned this trip for the end of May.

Emperor Constantine adopted Sunday, the "Day of the Sun," from the pagan-Roman cultural sphere and elevated it politically and religiously. This was a decisive step toward replacing the biblical Sabbath (Saturday) with Sunday.

Trump floats traveling to Turkey this week for Russia-Ukraine peace talks

"I would fly there if I thought it would be helpful," said the president, who is traveling this week to three Middle Eastern countries.

On March 7, 321, Constantine issued the following edict:

"All judges, city dwellers, and craftsmen shall rest on the venerable Day of the Sun." (Codex Justinianus 3.12.2)

- ◆ The wording is not Christian but clearly pagan:
 - "dies solis" = "Day of the Sun" = Sunday
 - The day was dedicated to the sun god Sol Invictus in the Roman Empire.

All the world will be on one side or the other of the question. The battle of Armageddon will be fought. And that day must find none of us sleeping. Wide awake we must be, as wise virgins having oil in our vessels with our lamps. The power of the Holy Ghost must be upon us and the Captain of the Lord's host will stand at the head of the angels of heaven to direct the battle.

Selected Messages 3:426 (1890). LDE 250.3

The enmity of Satan against good will be manifested more and more as he brings his forces into activity in his last work of rebellion, and every soul that is not fully surrendered to God and kept by divine power will form an alliance with Satan against heaven and join in battle against the Ruler of the universe.

Testimonies to Ministers and Gospel Workers, 465 (1892). LDE 251.1

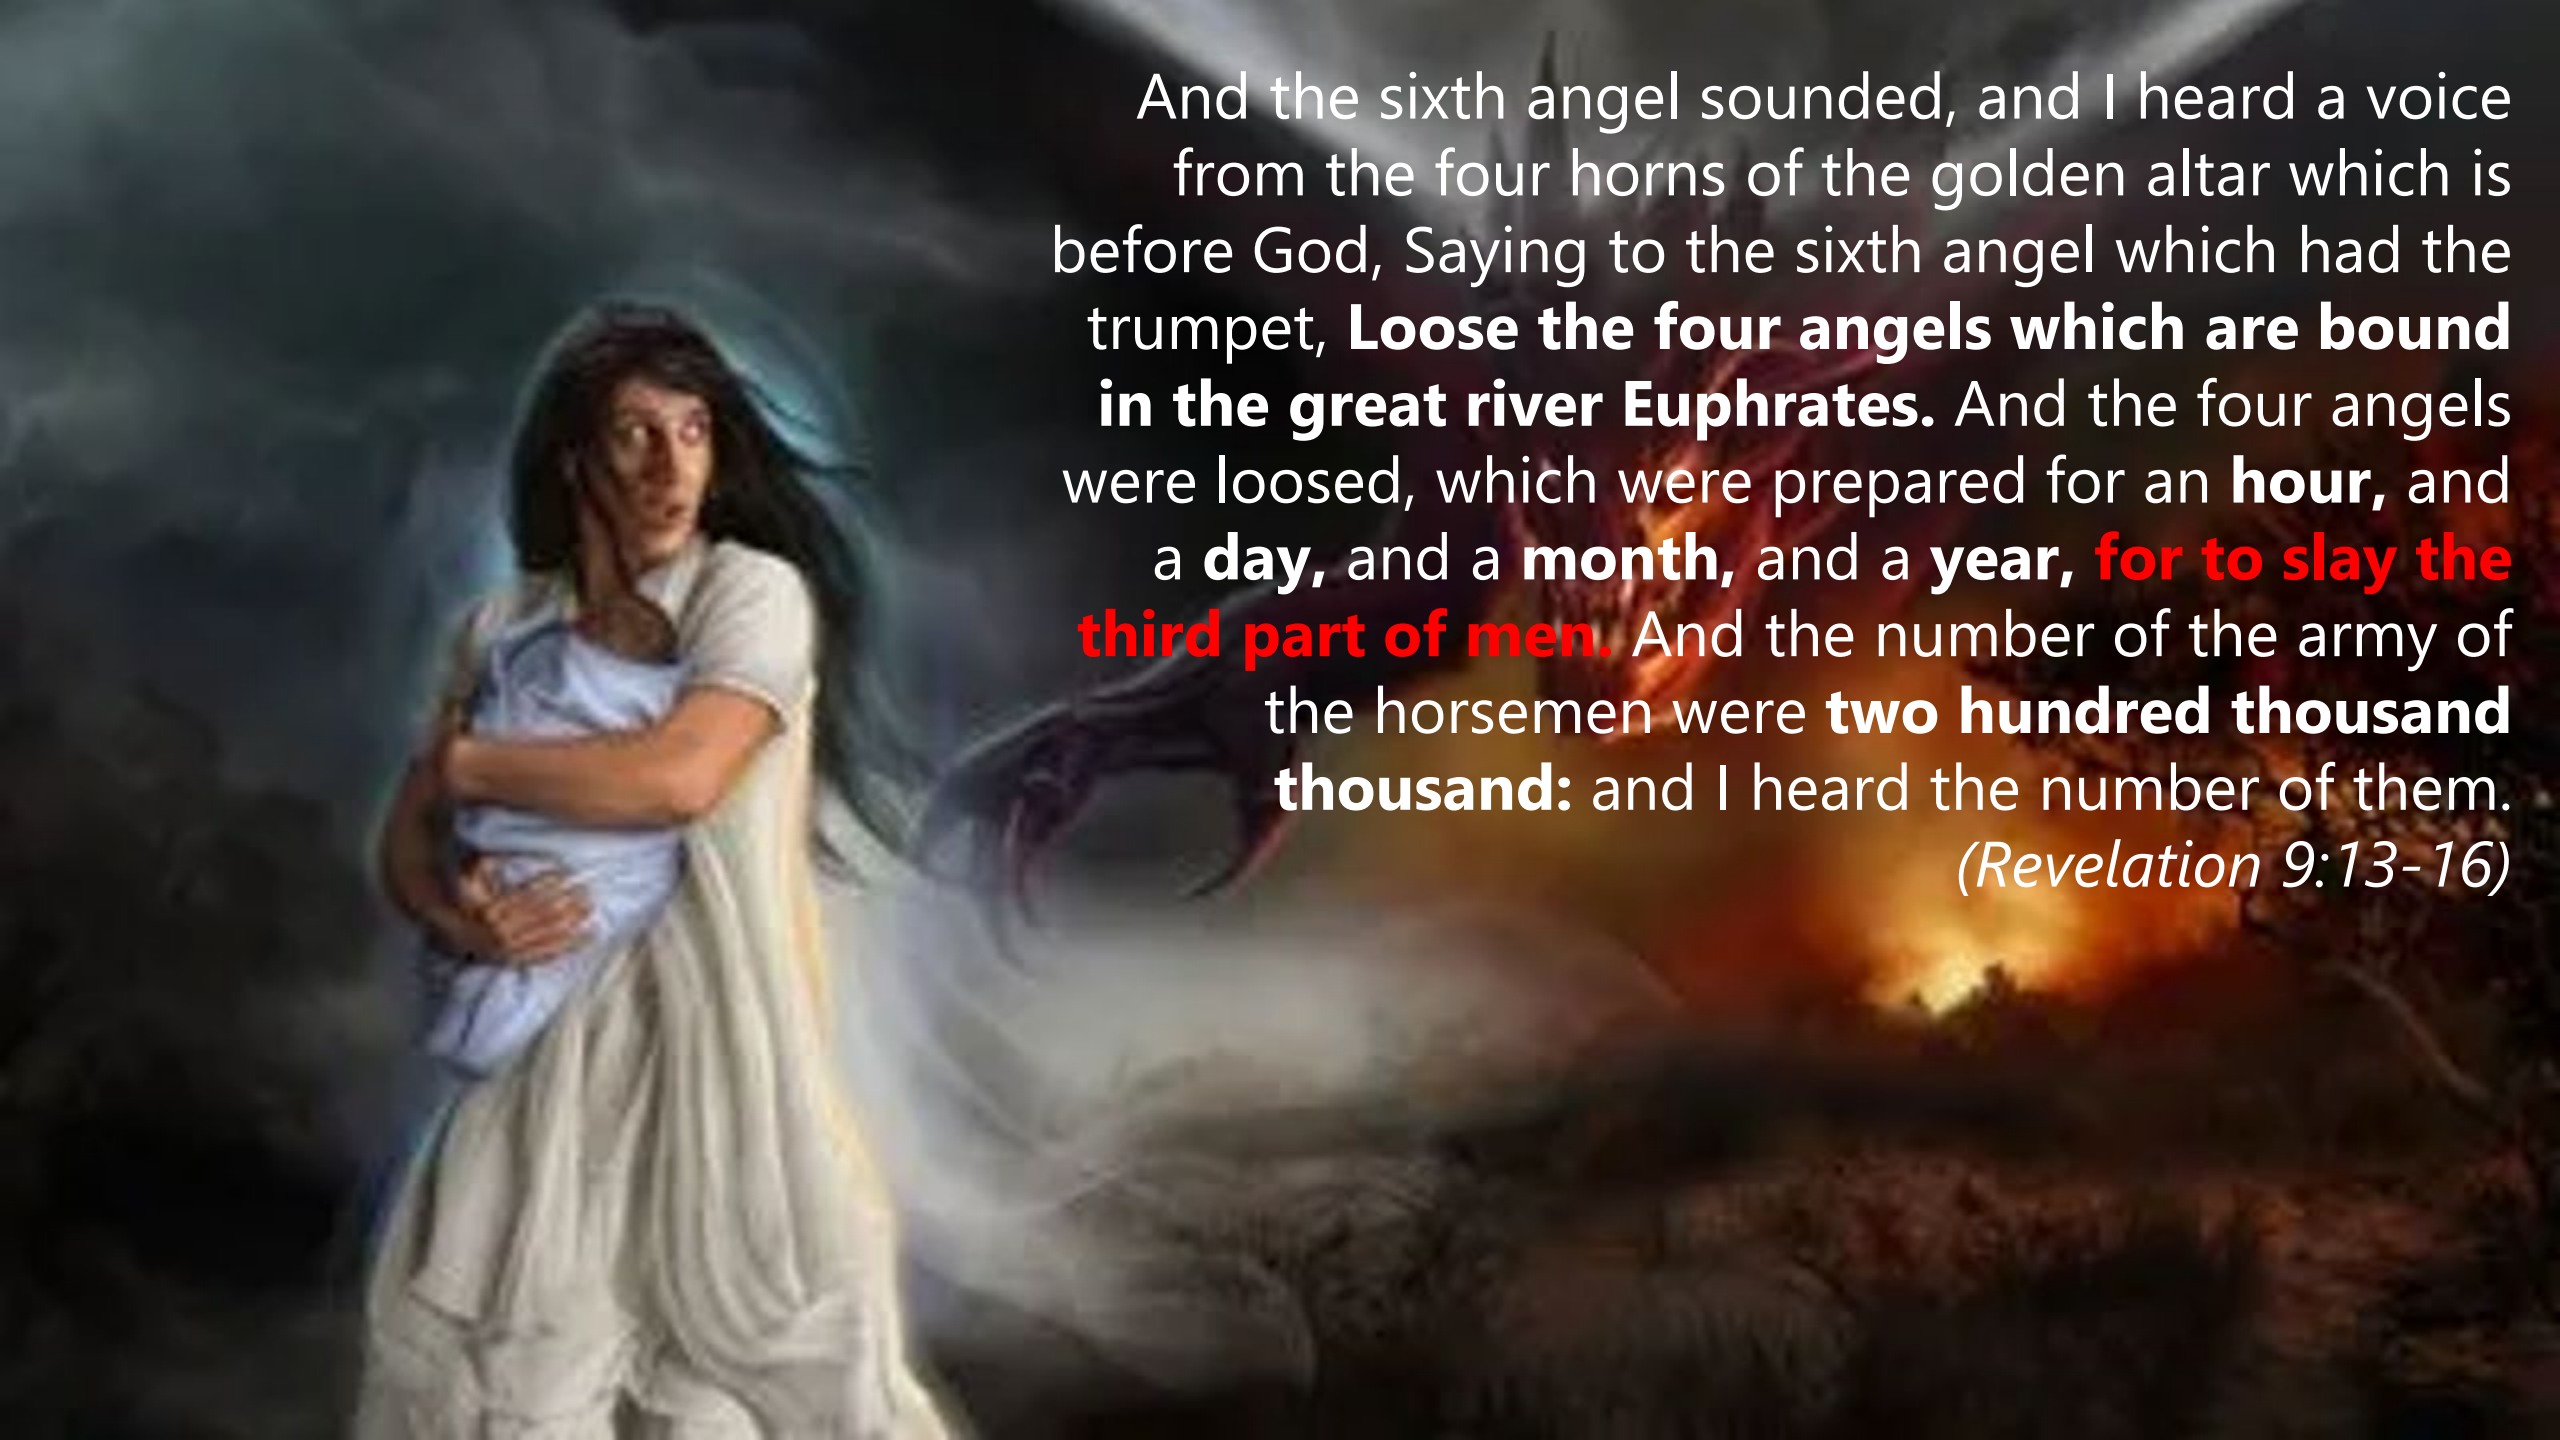

We need to study the pouring out of the seventh vial [Revelation 16:17-21]. The powers of evil will not yield up the conflict without a struggle. But Providence has a part to act in the battle of Armageddon. When the earth is lighted with the glory of the angel of Revelation eighteen, the religious elements, good and evil, will awake from slumber, and the armies of the living God will take the field.

The S.D.A. Bible Commentary 7:983 (1899). LDE 251.3

And the seventh angel poured out his vial into the air; and there came a great voice out of the temple of heaven, from the throne, saying, It is done.
(Revelation 16:17)

And the sixth angel sounded, and I heard a voice from the four horns of the golden altar which is before God, Saying to the sixth angel which had the trumpet, Loose the four angels which are bound in the great river Euphrates. And the four angels were loosed, which were prepared for an hour, and a day, and a month, and a year, for to slay the third part of men. And the number of the army of the horsemen were two hundred thousand thousand: and I heard the number of them.

(Revelation 9:13-16)

What percentage of Christians are Protestants?

ChatGPT:

Globally, Protestants make up about 37% of Christians. This corresponds to roughly 800 million people, making them the second-largest Christian denomination after Catholics, who account for about 50% of Christians. (de.religiousopinions.com)

In total, there are around 2.2 to 2.6 billion Christians worldwide, which is approximately 31% of the global population. (en.wikipedia.org)

Protestantism includes a wide variety of denominations, such as Lutherans, Reformed (e.g., Calvinists, Presbyterians), Anglicans, Baptists, Methodists, Pentecostals, and many others. This diversity explains the varying estimates of the proportion of Protestants within global Christianity.

(Revelation 9:17-18)

Soon we heard the voice of God like many waters, which gave us the day and hour of Jesus' coming. The living saints, 144,000 in number, knew and understood the voice, while the wicked thought it was thunder and an earthquake. When God spoke the time, He poured upon us the Holy Ghost, and our faces began to light up and shine with the glory of God, as Moses' did when he came down from Mount Sinai. - The upper section has a blue background with a white fleur-de-lis, symbolizing the Virgin Mary.
- The lower section has a light background and depicts a red heart pierced by an arrow, resting on a closed book. This imagery is inspired by Saint Augustine, who described how the Word of God pierced his heart, a symbol of his conversion.

Today is the day of the Prayer of Supplication to Our Lady of Pompeii. Our Mother Mary always wants to walk at our side, to remain close to us, to help us with her intercession and her love.

So I would like to pray together with you. Let us pray together for this new mission, for the whole Church, for peace in the world, and let us ask Mary, our Mother, for this special grace:

Hail Mary... [accompanied by the crowds in St Peter's Square and around the world.]

After the Reformation, the Roman Catholic Church initiated the Counter-Reformation, during which Marian devotion experienced two opposing trends: On the one hand, efforts were made to ban as many unbiblical texts as possible, which theoretically should have harmed popular Marian devotion; on the other hand, from the 1580s onward, the cult of Mary became a tool, particularly of the Jesuit Counter-Reformation. For example, in Bavaria, Marian devotion (Patrona Bavariae) was strongly promoted by the state and the Jesuits, and numerous Marian pilgrimages began, such as to the Maria im Sand pilgrimage church in Dettelbach and the Chapel of Grace in Altötting.

The attitude towards Mary was, especially during the Counter-Reformation, one of the most obvious criteria distinguishing Catholics from Lutherans on one hand and Calvinists on the other. Thus, during interrogations, the question of whether one directed Intercessory prayers to Mary and the saints was used as a means to identify secret Protestants.^[7]

Marian devotion experienced a new flourishing during the Romantic era.
