Is Armageddon Imminent?

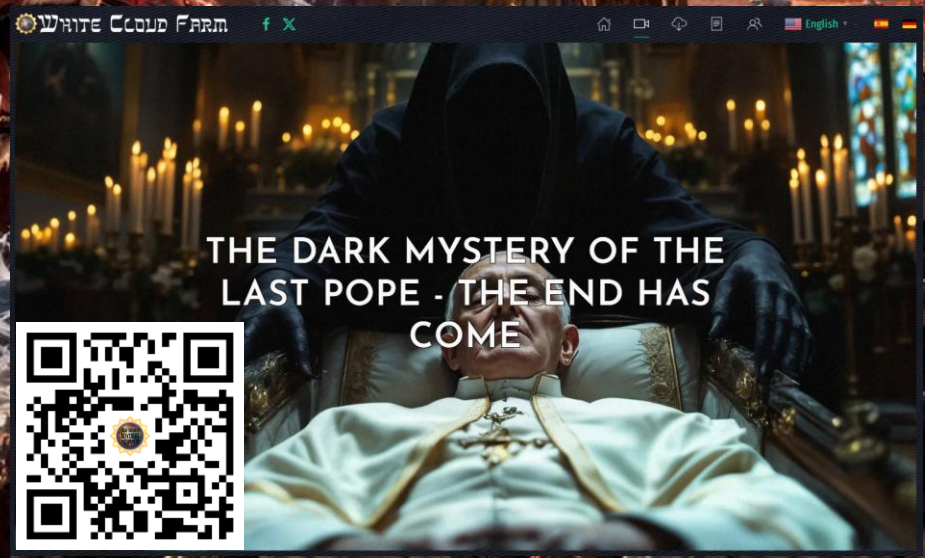

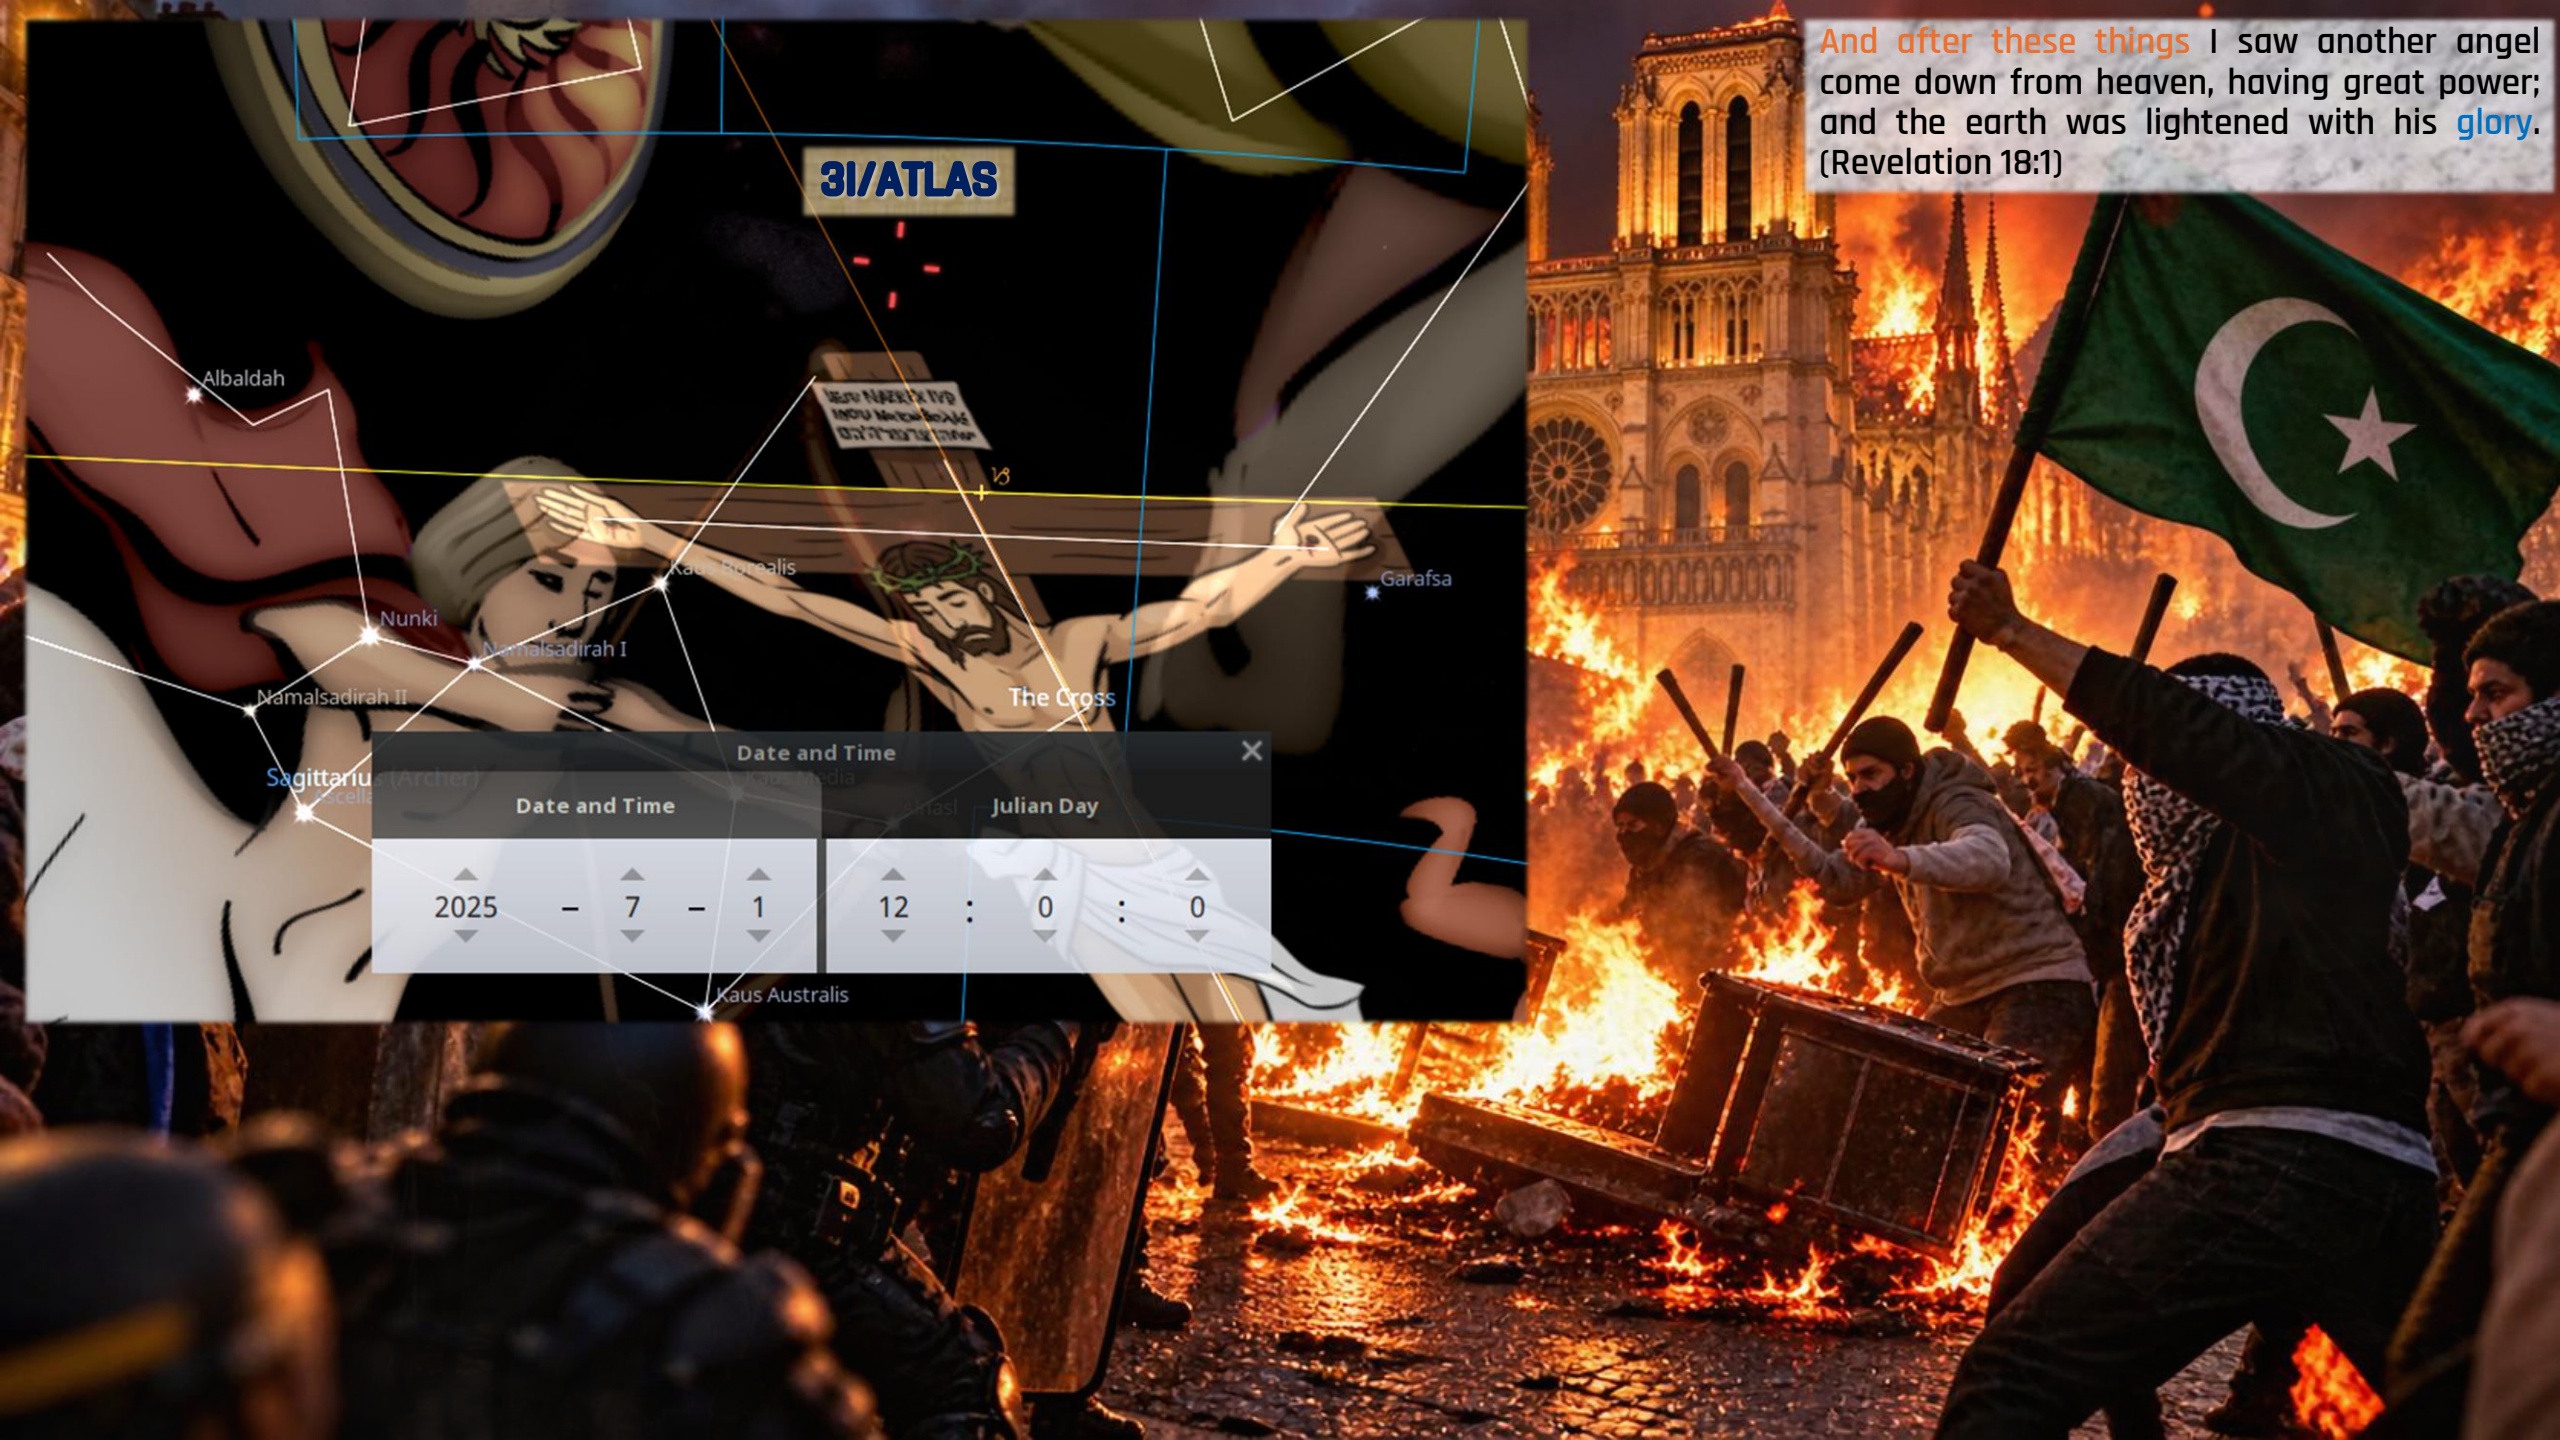

And after these things I saw another angel come down from heaven, having great power; and the earth was lightened with his glory. (Revelation 18:1)

NEW BANKNOTES

Sham design: Old Greek woman protects the euro

The mythological figure of Europa will adorn euro banknotes in the future; the new banknotes will be available from May

The road to the moon is paved with five-euro notes. Almost. If all the basic physical rules were disregarded and a way out of the five-euro banknotes produced in 2012 were established, then the Earth's Trabant would be within reach. A space hiker would have to cover a paltry 35,000 kilometers in some other way. Perhaps with new banknotes. They will flutter into the coffers of Europe starting in May of next year.

The current euro banknotes are called the "Europa series." Europa's portrait appears in the watermark and hologram. The notes were introduced between 2013 and 2019, depending on the denomination.

The flooding of Europe with refugees has become a situation so divisive that it has been questioned whether this will mark "the downfall of the European Union."[1] The refugees are not poor, docile victims. The majority of them are young men from Syria who have demonstrated their intent to storm Europe by force, which means they are actually better described as an unorganized army than as refugees or immigrants. Furthermore, they are coming primarily from Syria, the home of the ISIS headquarters.

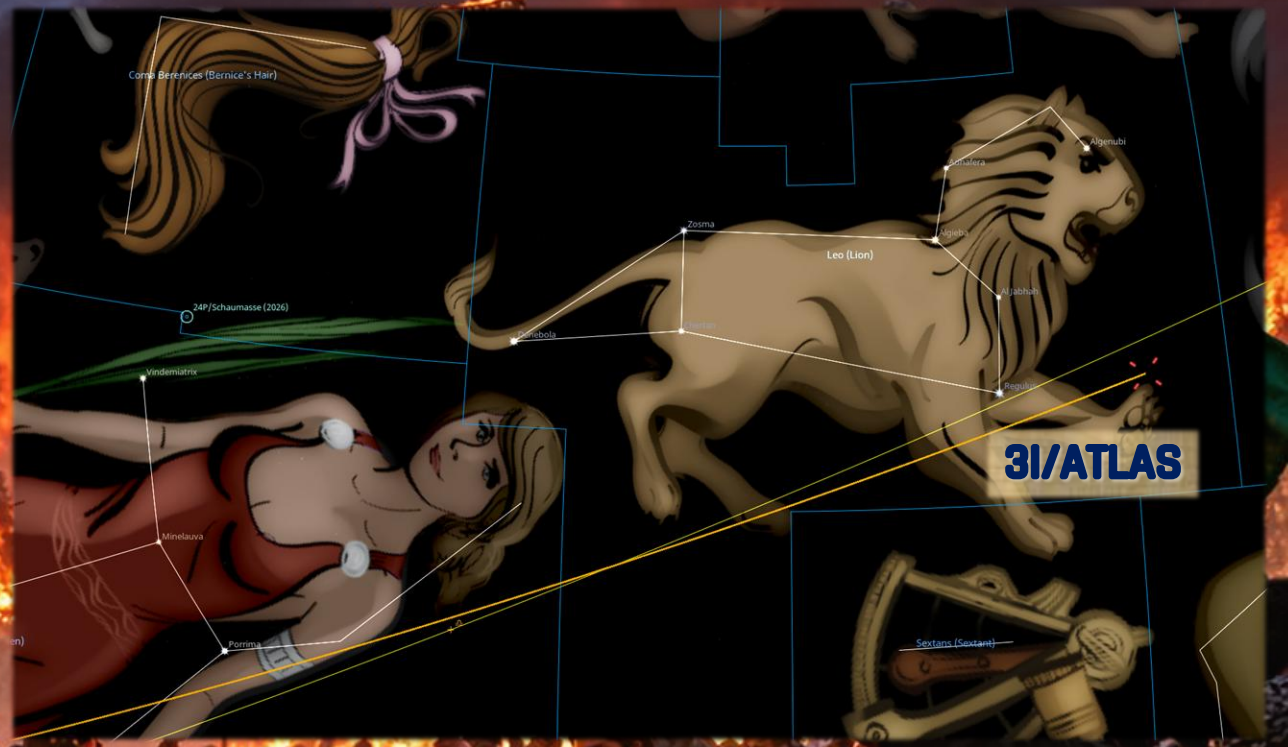

Is it not strange? Does it not sound like a barbaric plan to take advantage of Western compassion (or even basic morality) just to turn around and execute their jihad?[2]

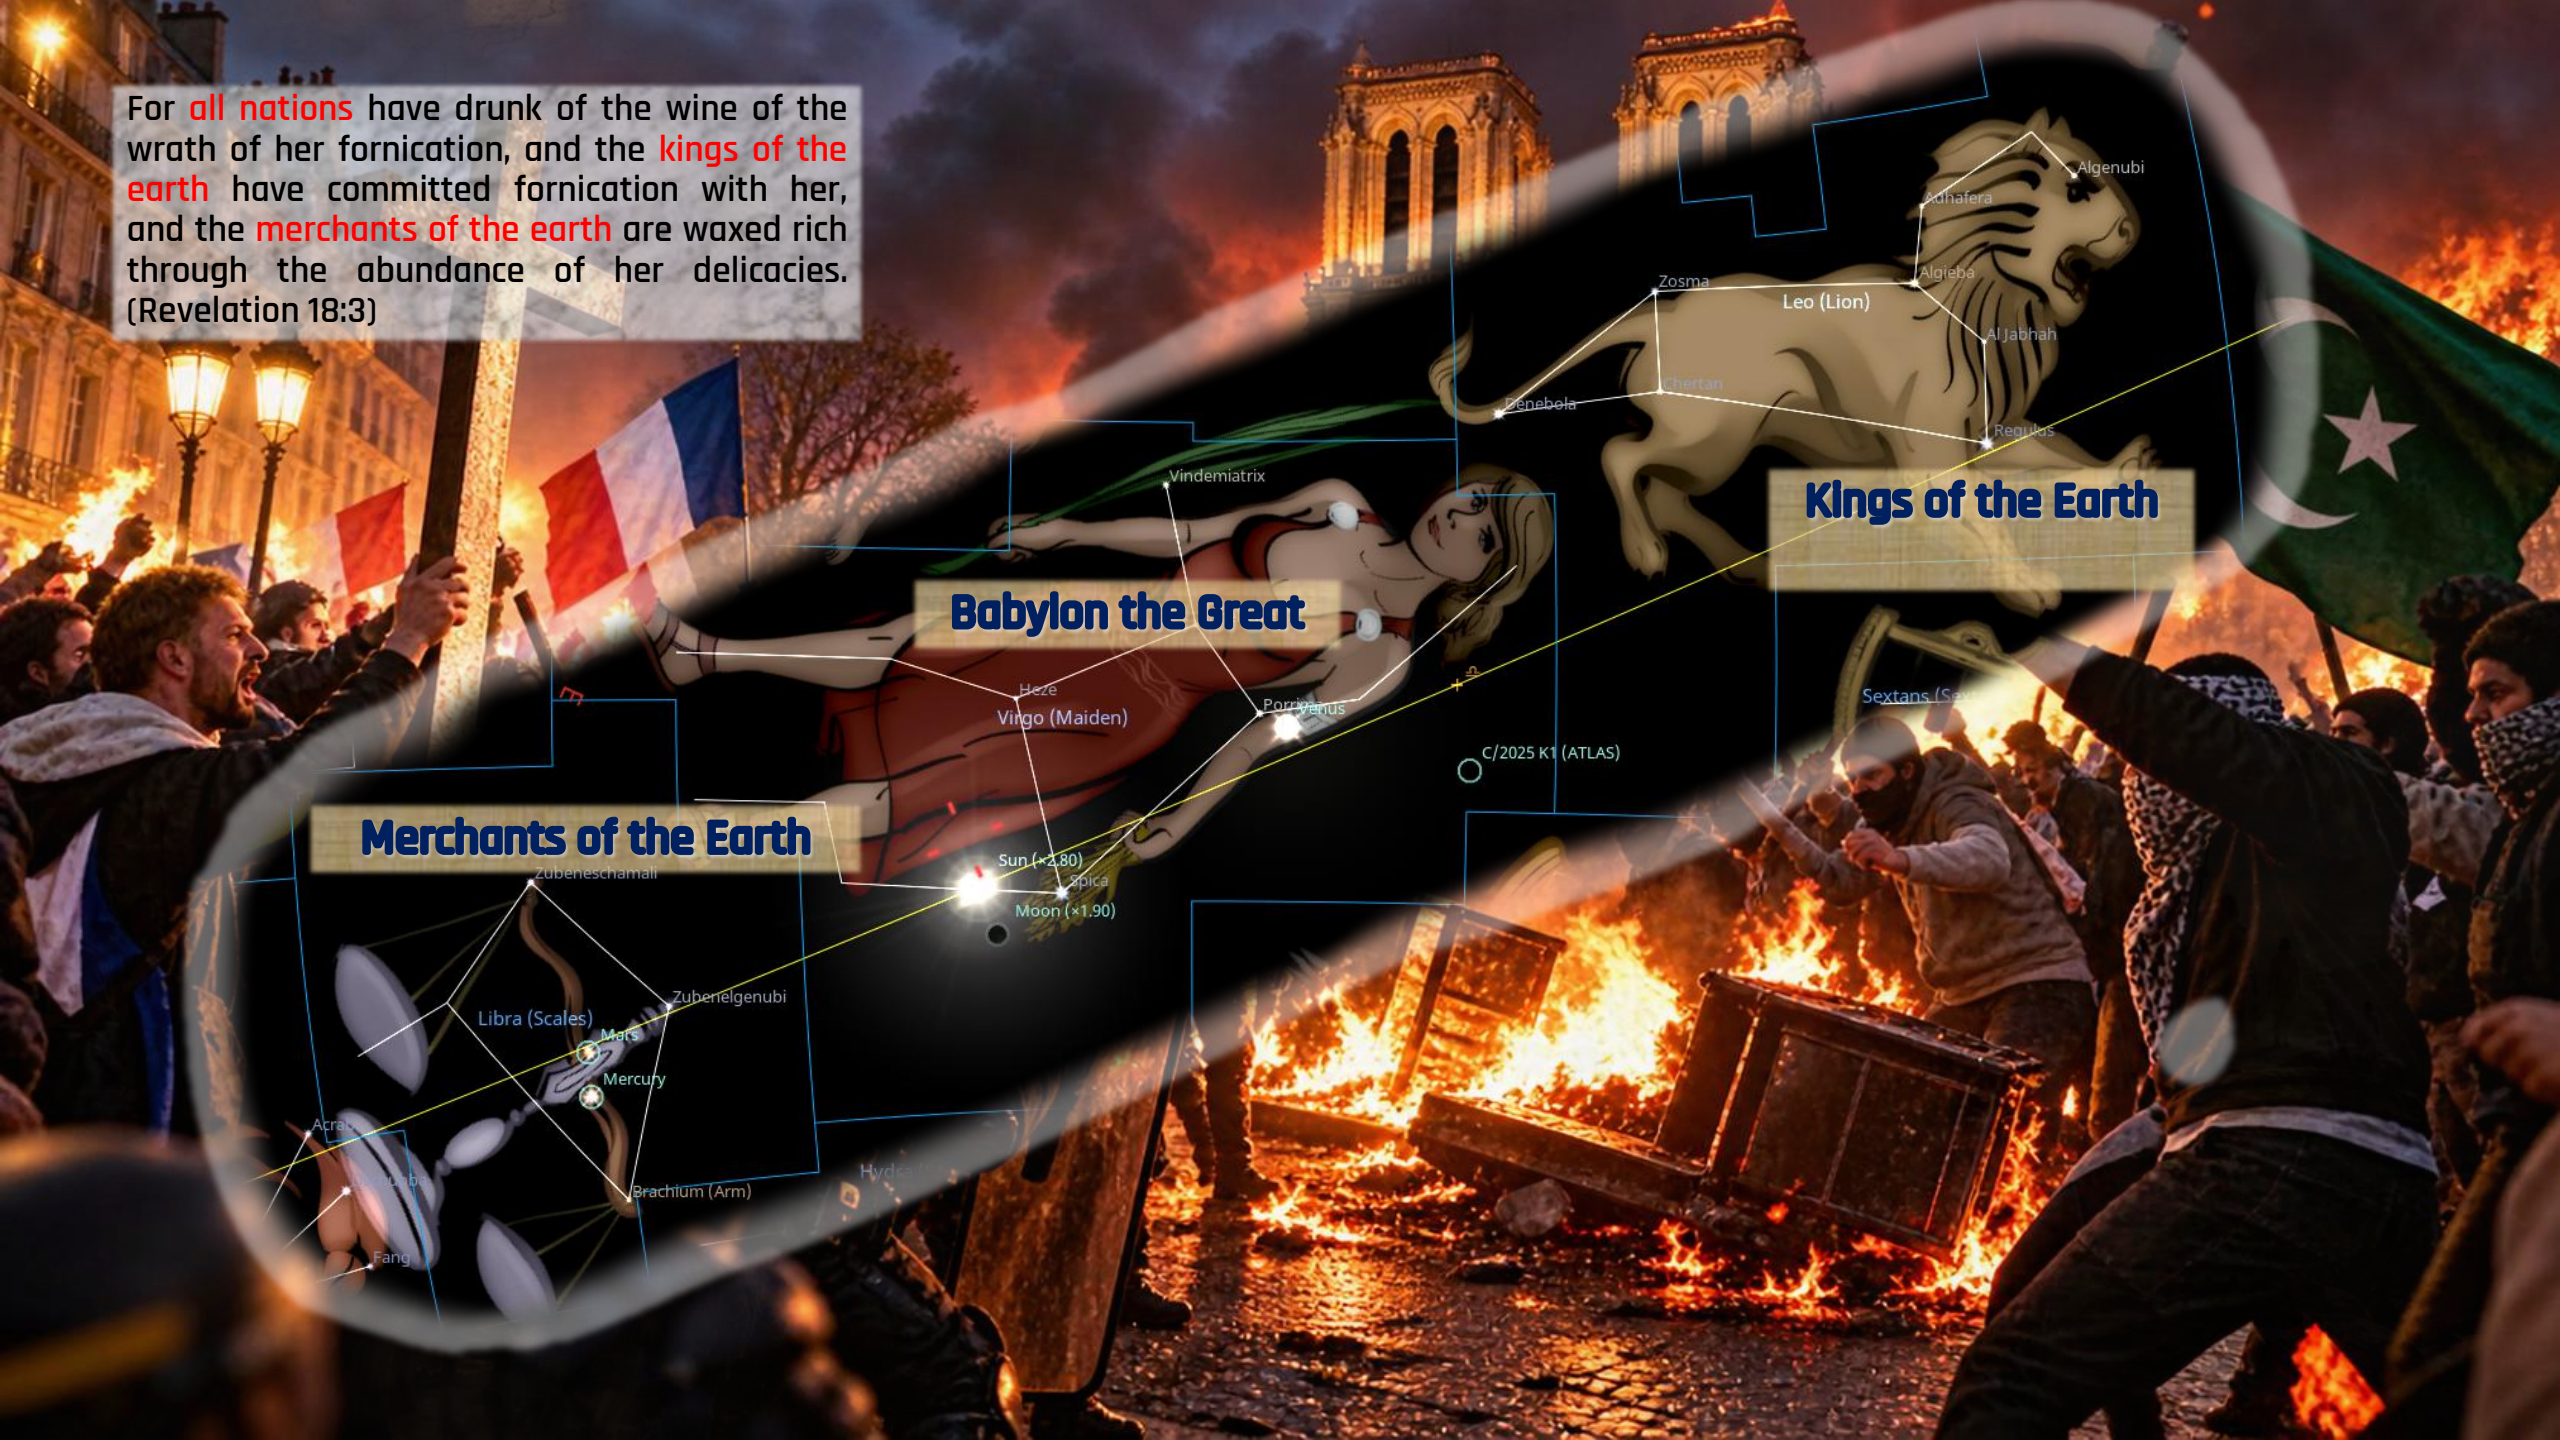

And he cried mightily with a strong voice, saying, Babylon the great is fallen, is fallen, and is become the habitation of devils, and the hold of every foul spirit, and a cage of every unclean and hateful bird. (Revelation 18:2)

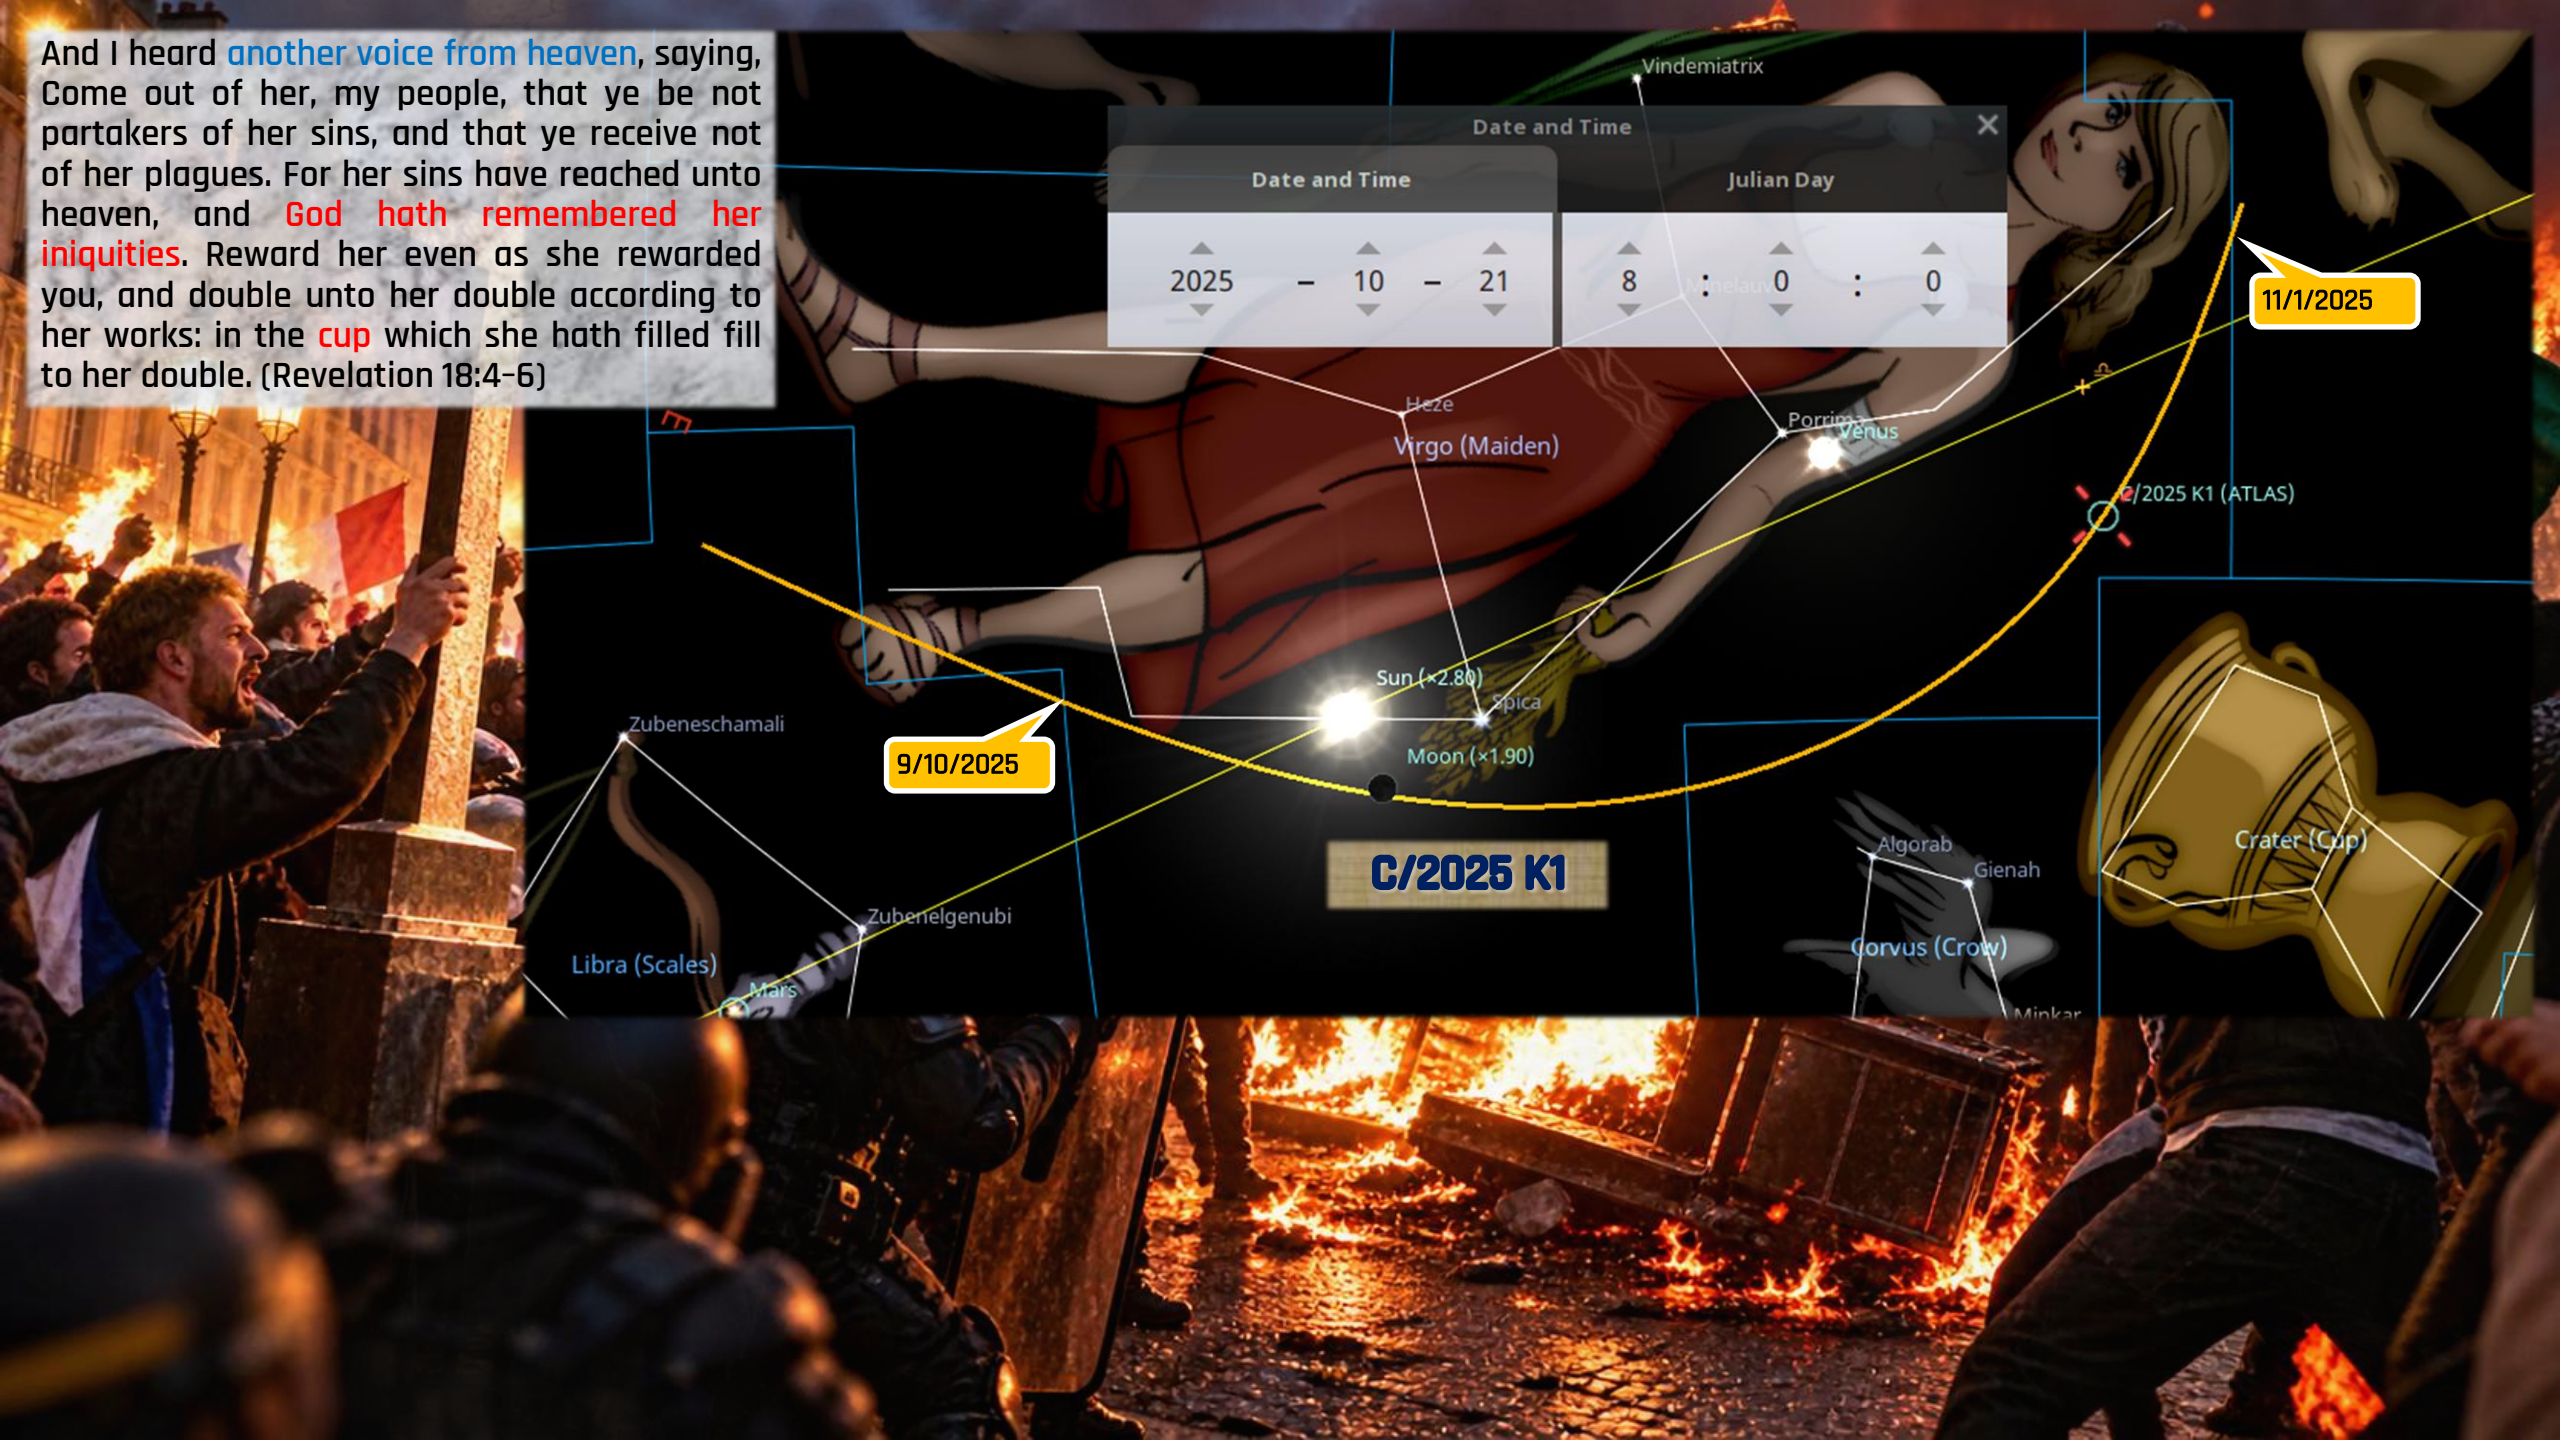

For all nations have drunk of the wine of the wrath of her fornication, and the kings of the earth have committed fornication with her, and the merchants of the earth are waxed rich through the abundance of her delicacies. (Revelation 18:3)

For all nations have drunk of the wine of the wrath of her fornication, and the kings of the earth have committed fornication with her, and the merchants of the earth are waxed rich through the abundance of her delicacies. (Revelation 18:3)

And I heard another voice from heaven, saying, Come out of her, my people, that ye be not partakers of her sins, and that ye receive not of her plagues. For her sins have reached unto heaven, and God hath remembered her iniquities. Reward her even as she rewarded you, and double unto her double according to her works: in the cup which she hath filled fill to her double. (Revelation 18:4-6)

How much she hath glorified herself, and lived deliciously, so much torment and sorrow give her: for she saith in her heart, I sit a queen, and am no widow, and shall see no sorrow. (Revelation 18:7)

Give Her Double!

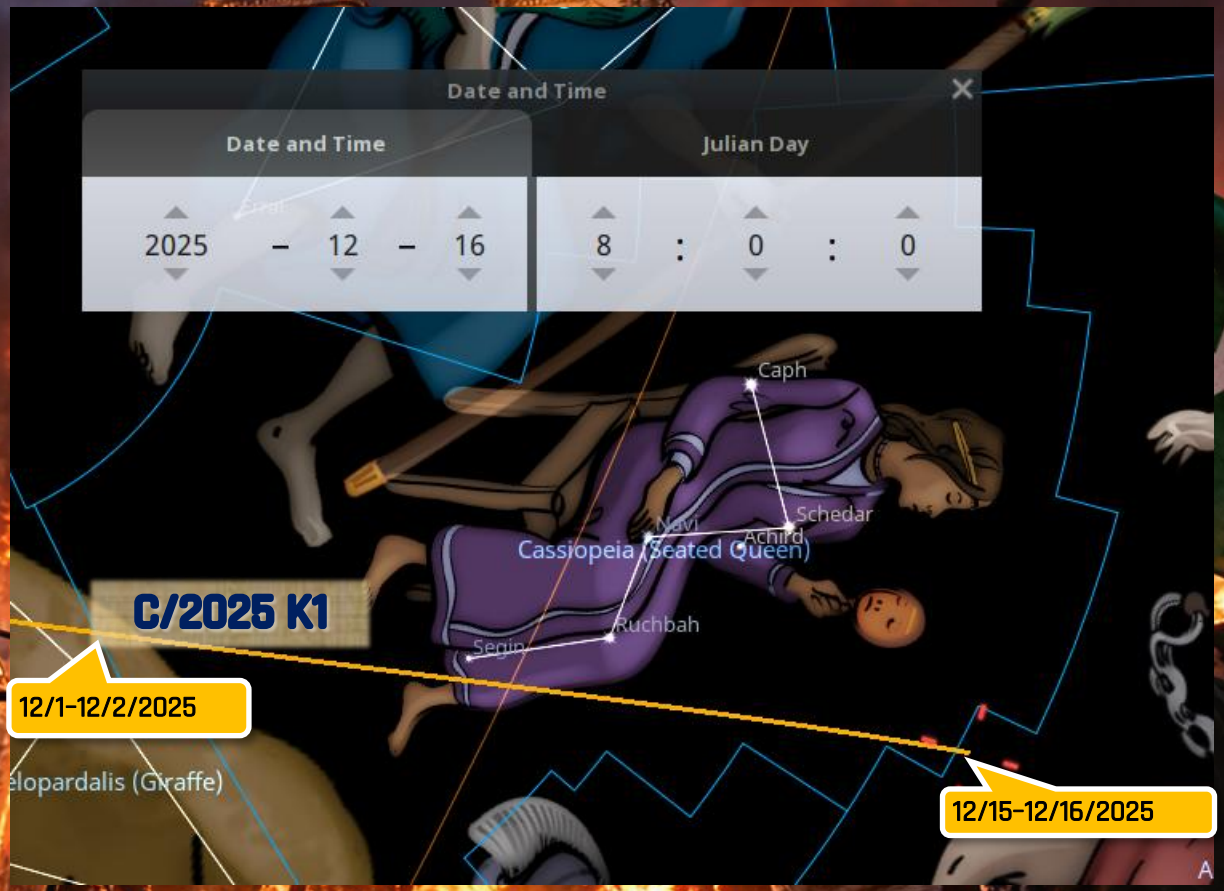

We are entering serious times that should not be taken lightly. The Lord has given a great and marvelous sign in heaven, and in this video, you will learn its full extent in giving Babylon double according to her works. Who are the seven angels to whom the bowls are given? Where are they poured out, and where is this scene depicted in the heavens? These and many more questions will be answered beautifully in this solemn message. The Lord would have all people everywhere turn to Him in righteousness. Repent and believe His word from heaven.

What's Behind the Protests and Riots in France, and What Comes Next

Massive protests have swept across France since mid-September as students have rallied against the country's education system and rising living costs. But the chaos could be a boon for France's more extreme parties before next year's elections.

On September 17, teachers at the Antoine de Saint-Exupéry High School in Créteil, a southeastern suburb of Paris, went on strike to draw attention to staff shortages. The teachers, joined by students and parents, blocked the school entrance. Videos of the blockade spread on social media, and soon protests expanded to high schools across the nation.

From Wikipedia, the free encyclopedia

A total solar eclipse occurred at the Moon's descending node of orbit on Wednesday, 12 August 2026,[1] with a magnitude of 1.0386. Totality occurred in a narrow path across Earth's surface, with the partial solar eclipse visible over a surrounding region thousands of kilometres wide. Occurring about 2.3 days after perigee (on 10 August 2026, at 11:18 UTC), the Moon's apparent diameter was larger.[2]

The total eclipse passed over northernmost Siberia, the Arctic, Greenland, Iceland, the Atlantic Ocean, northern Spain, a small part of northeastern Portugal, the Mediterranean Sea, and the Balearic Islands.[3] The points of greatest duration and greatest eclipse were just 45 km (28 mi) off the western coast of Iceland around 65°30' N and 25°25' W, where the totality lasted 2 minutes and 18.2 seconds.[4] The first part of the total eclipse path unusually passed from east to west from Russia to Greenland, passing about 100 km south of the North Pole.[5][6] A partial eclipse covered more than 90% of the Sun in Ireland, Great Britain, and northern Italy, and to a lesser extent across much of the rest of Europe, North Africa, and northern North America.[7][8] The total eclipse passed over northern Spain from the Atlantic coast to the Mediterranean coast, as well as the Balearic Islands.[9][10] The total eclipse was visible from the cities of A Coruña, Valencia, Zaragoza, Palma, and Bilbao, but both Madrid and Barcelona were just outside the path of totality.[11][10]

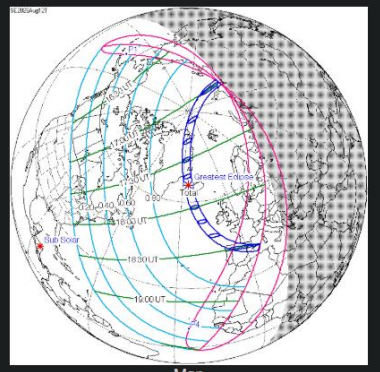

This was the first total eclipse to be visible in Europe since 20 March 2015, and the first one to cross over Mainland Europe since 11 August 1999.[12] It was the first total solar eclipse visible in Iceland since 30 June 1954, also solar saros series 126 (descending node), and the only one to occur in the 21st century; the next one visible over Iceland will be in 2196. It was also the first total solar eclipse visible from the territory of present-day Spain since 2 October 1959 in the Canary Islands, and the first from the Spanish mainland since 30 August 1905.[13] The next total eclipse visible in Spain will happen less than a year later on 2 August 2027.[14]

Look, he's a friend of mine [Macron]. I told him a long time ago, you're making a big mistake in France. You're letting everybody from the world come in. The whole world was coming in.

And you know, as you know, Paris is going to be a Muslim city very soon. And that wasn't the deal. That wasn't the deal.

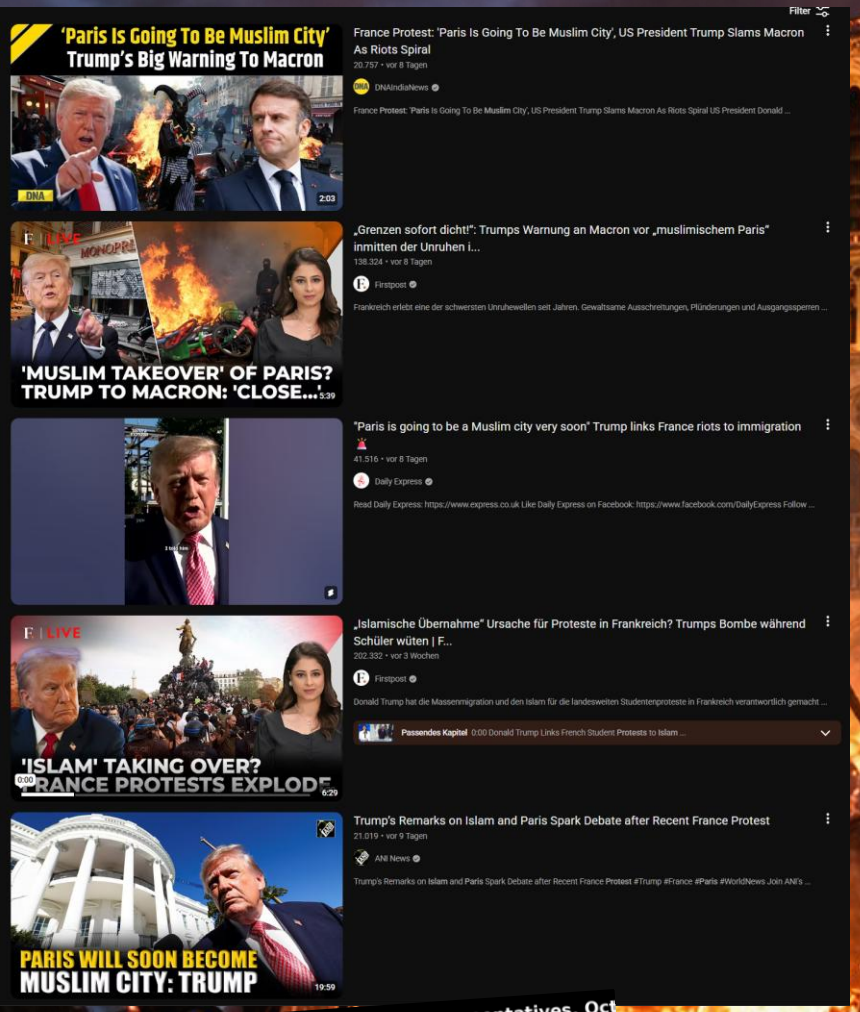

I told Emmanuel, you should close up your borders.

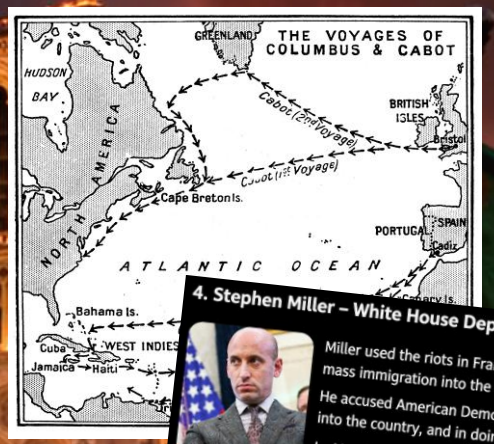

And let's see. I've known him for probably eight or nine years. I told him as soon as I met him, I said, you're making a big mistake.

We closed our borders. He didn't. And you know what? His borders are a problem.

And he also has a little bit of a problem with energy, but they've gone—you know, they're doing better than others.

But Emmanuel should have closed his borders a long time ago. I told him to do it.

4. Stephen Miller – White House Deputy Chief of Staff, October 20, 2026

Miller used the riots in France as a warning about the consequences of further mass immigration into the United States.

He accused American Democrats of wanting to bring millions more immigrants into the country, and in doing so, drew a connection to the looting in France.

5. Elon Musk – Entrepreneur and Owner of X, Early October 2026

Even before the major escalation of violence, Musk commented on the French student protests and linked them to mass immigration.

On October 14, France's Foreign Minister Jean-Noël Barrot accused him of influencing political debates in Europe via X.

6. The Official White House – October 19, 2026

The developments in France were also commented on via the official X account of the White House, with a warning about mass immigration.

The message was, in essence: Whoever imports the Third World will itself become the Third World.

This was therefore not only a personal statement by Trump, but was also disseminated through an official White House communication channel. The Guardian

1. JD Vance – U.S. Vice President, October 17/18, 2026

Direct response to the riots in France

Vance posted a video on X of the burning city hall in Limoges and wrote:

> "Western liberals have imported the Third World into France and other countries in the name of diversity and compassion. They ignored fundamental questions of assimilation and compatibility. They were warned that this would lead to this, but they did not listen."

Vance also expressed hope that France would end this course before more historic buildings burn. He warned that Democrats in the USA could bring about a similar development.

2. Mike Johnson – Speaker of the U.S. House of Representatives, Oct

Johnson blamed open borders for the unrest in France and described the events as a chilling warning for the United States. He spoke of a struggle to preserve American civilization, freedom, and its way of life.

Fox News – October 19, 2026 ↗

3. Keith Self – U.S. Congressman from Texas, October 20, 2026

Self, chairman of the Europe Subcommittee of the House Foreign Affairs Committee, saw the situation in France as the result of years of mass immigration.

He warned that France and the United Kingdom could show what lay ahead for America. The interview even discussed the possibility of civil war in France.

And the merchants of the earth shall weep and mourn over her; for no man buyeth their merchandise any more: *The merchandise of gold, and silver, and precious stones, and of pearls, and fine linen, and purple, and silk, and scarlet, and all thyine wood, and all manner vessels of ivory, and all manner vessels of most precious wood, and of brass, and iron, and marble, And cinnamon, and odours, and ointments, and frankincense, and wine, and oil, and fine flour, and wheat, and beasts, and sheep, and horses, and chariots, and slaves, and souls of men. So he carried me away in the spirit into the wilderness: and I saw a woman sit upon a scarlet coloured beast, full of names of blasphemy, having seven heads and ten horns. And the woman was arrayed in purple and scarlet colour, and decked with gold and precious stones and pearls, having a golden cup in her hand full of abominations and filthiness of her fornication: And upon her forehead was a name written, MYSTERY, BABYLON THE GREAT, THE MOTHER OF HARLOTS AND ABOMINATIONS OF THE EARTH. (Revelation 17:3-5)

And the merchants of the earth shall weep and mourn over her; for no man buyeth their merchandise any more: The merchandise of gold, and silver, and precious stones, and of pearls, and fine linen, and purple, and silk, and scarlet, and all thyine wood, and all manner vessels of ivory, and all manner vessels of most precious wood, and of brass, and iron, and marble, And cinnamon, and odours, and ointments, and frankincense, and wine, and oil, and fine flour, and wheat, and beasts, and sheep, and horses, and chariots, and slaves, and souls of men. And every shipmaster, and all the company in ships, and sailors, and as many as trade by sea, stood afar off, And cried when they saw the smoke of her burning, saying, What city is like unto this great city! And they cast dust on their heads, and cried, weeping and wailing, saying, Alas, alas that great city, wherein were made rich all that had ships in the sea by reason of her costliness! for in one hour is she made desolate. And the temple of God was opened in heaven, and there was seen in his temple the ark of his testament: and there were lightnings, and voices, and thunderings, and an earthquake, and great hail. (Revelation 11:19)

Being the sign of the Son of man, the symbolism within this signature encompasses many aspects related to Jesus as the Son of man, His role in the divine plan of salvation as well as the announcement of His second coming in glory:

- The sign of Jonah depicting the great fish in whose belly Jonah (and by extension, the Lord) is represented.
- The new name and seal of Jesus and the Father.
- The seven churches of Revelation, which represent His body, with the urgent call of Jesus to repent and be gathered into the fold of truth.
- The ear that the members of the seven churches should have to hear the Spirit.
- The vision of Zechariah 4 that depicts two olive trees draining their oil into a bowl through two pipes, which is then distributed to seven other lamps (which are the seven churches as the light of the world).
- The harp that the end-time harpers play, as well as its ten strings, which are...
- The Ten Commandments in their fullness as Jesus expounded while on earth.
- The ark of the testament, with its contents of Aaron's rod, the bowl of manna, and the two tables of stone.
- The tree of life, whose leaves are for the healing of the nations, formed by the comet of Time.
- The final harvest at the end of the world[4] with the wheat gathered into the barn and the grapes gathered and thrown into the winepress.
- The scene of the Lord's baptism and that of His people.
- The kingdom of God and the representation of His enemies becoming His footstool.
- The correlation of the end as in the days of Noah that Jesus prophesied.[5]
- Lastly, the inheritance of the tribes of spiritual Israel are demarcated in the sign in an orderly sequence like the ancient tribes.
